Chiang's Son Takes Command

NEW CHINESE TACTICS

Shanghai, Sept. 23. It is reported here from Chinese sources that Lieutenant-General Chiang Kai-shek, son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, has taken over command of the strategically important Chinese positions near Kiangsi in the Lushan mountains.

The guerilla organisation of Kiangsi province has at the same time been placed under the command of General Chiang Kai-shek in accordance with Chinese tactics of establishing everywhere close co-operation between the regular and guerilla forces.

It is also reported here that Chinese Headquarters has placed big orders in France for the supply of plant for the production of war material. The new machinery is to be delivered to Kunming, capital of the province of Yunnan where the Chinese command is constructing a big arsenal under French supervision.—Transocean.

FURTHER WATER RESTRICTIONS

The continued shortage of water in Colony reservoirs has made a further curtailment of the supply necessary, and as from Monday the daily supply will be cut down to eight hours.

On both the Island and the Mainland, the hours of supply will be 6 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 8 p.m.

POLES WANT COMMON FRONTIER

Warsaw, Sept. 23.

The Polish Government press goes a step further to-day in its demands relating to Czechoslovakia. Whereas on the previous day it was only a question of the claims of Poles and Hungarians living in that country, the demand is now raised that Poland should henceforth have a common frontier with Hungary. The Conservative organ, "Czas," opines that such common frontier should be created by the transfer of Carpathian Ruthenia to Hungary.—Transocean.

SOVIET WARNING

Moscow, Sept. 23.

Soviet Russia has warned Poland that it would abrogate the Soviet-Polish Treaty of non-aggression if Poland violates Czech territory.—Reuter.

SOVIET UPSET BY ANGLO-FRENCH CONCESSIONS IN CZECH ISSUE

Stan, September 23.

It was reported that Marshal Vassily Blucher, Commander-in-Chief of Soviet Far Eastern forces, with headquarters at Habarovsk, has been transferred for temporary duty to the western border possibly in preparation for the aggravation of the Sudeten issue.

Soviet Russia is said to be upset by the concessions granted by England and France to the Sudetens and is making military preparations to meet the crisis.

As a first step, Moscow grants autonomy to the Kiev and White Russian districts, so that they might be able to take immediate action if a conflict breaks out, according to wireless reports received here.

Effectives in the vast Red Army have also been brought to maximum figures and complete readiness for immediate action, while new recruits are being called to colours. The Red Army's extensive autumn manoeuvres ended recently but it is said that none of the troops have returned to the barracks.

RACING PONY KNOCKED DOWN BY MOTOR BUS

African Cat Destroyed After Breaking Leg

Knocked down by a motor bus near the junction of Queen's Road and Arsenal Street about 6.45 p.m. yesterday, African Cat, the well-known Macao racing pony, was so badly injured that it had to be destroyed.

The pony, which had been brought from Macao to take part in the Seventh Extra Race Meeting to-day, was being led to the stable by two mafoos.

When nearing the junction of the two roads the mafoos noticed a bus No. 636, approaching from the direction of Wanchai. The road at this part was narrow and part of it was under repair. According to the mafoos, they signalled to the bus to slow down, but it appeared that the driver did not observe the warning and continued his way, with the result that African Cat was struck severely in the hind quarters and suffered a broken leg.

Captain R. S. T. Bowden, of the Jockey Club Stables, was summoned immediately by telephone to the scene. After examining the injuries, he destroyed the animal on the spot.

African Cat, which was owned by Mr. H. Y. Liang, was a black 1938 Subscription Griffin, and had taken part in the Annual Meeting here in February.

It won the Changsha Plate on April 3 and the Tsinshan Handicap on September 12 in Macao, and was also placed twice in the Praia Grande Handicap on May 1 and the Ma Kau Slac Handicap on June 19.

Manchurian Frontier Clash

Tokyo, Sept. 23. TWO SOVIET soldiers were killed in a clash yesterday when Japanese and Manchurian border guards fired on a party of Russians who were alleged to have crossed the frontier near Suifenho, according to reports from Hsinking.

Eight members of the group of Russians were repulsed after they had either photographed or sketched defence works.

The Manchukuo Government has lodged a protest with Soviet Russia, charging that Soviet troops have frequently crossed the border since early September. The protest urges a "reconsideration" of the Soviet attitude.—Reuter.

INVASION OF SUDETEN TERRITORY

STORM TROOPERS AND BLACK GUARDS ASSIST

Situation Serious Around Towns Of Asch, Warnsdorf

Prague, September 23. IT IS LEARNED FROM OFFICIAL CZECH QUARTERS that there has been a general invasion of Sudeten territory from Germany since 1 p.m. by armed Sudetens assisted by German storm troopers and black guards.

The incursions are being resisted and, according to official reports, efforts are being made to evict Sudetens stated to have already captured some towns in the districts.

The situation is described as serious around the frontier towns of Asch, in west Rumburg, and Warnsdorf, in the north, where Sudeten advance is strongest.

The Sudetens are alleged to be spreading a report that the German army is following behind.

General Faucher, Chief of the French Military Mission to Czechoslovakia, has sent his resignation to the French Government and asked to be relieved of his duties. It is announced at the same time that General Faucher has put himself at the disposal of the Czech defence forces.—Reuter.

One More Talk Will Be Held

MR. CHAMBERLAIN HAS IMPRESSED HERR HITLER

Godsberg, Sept. 23. German circles express the hope that the talks between Mr. Chamberlain, British Prime Minister, and Herr Hitler, German Chancellor, will not break down.

The German opinion is that Mr. Chamberlain has made such a good impression on the Fuehrer, both as a man of goodwill and as a negotiator, that Herr Hitler will not lightly allow a breakdown to be caused by any untoward events.

One German spokesman said to Reuter, "Mr. Chamberlain yesterday talked to the German Chancellor with perfect frankness of the difficulties which had to be met, but that was not by any means a ground for pessimism. It is far better for both sides to know just where they stand." Herr Hitler's answer to Mr. Chamberlain's note is expected this afternoon and whatever the contents it is believed there will be at least one further meeting.—Reuter.

Chamberlain - Hitler Talks Postponed

German Optimism: French Pessimism: London Tension

London, September 23. THE CONFERENCE BETWEEN THE PRIME MINISTER, Mr. Chamberlain, and Herr Adolf Hitler which lasted for two and three quarters yesterday at Godsberg was to have been renewed at 11.15 o'clock this morning. This anticipation was not, however, realised and it later became known that the Prime Minister had sent a letter to the German Chancellor. A reply is awaited and meanwhile the resumption of the talks has been postponed until late in the day.

The Prime Minister is in constant communication with London where the proceedings at Godsberg are being studied with anxious concern.

Newspapers show full recognition of the gravity of the situation which was emphasised by a statement late last night by Mr. Chamberlain appealing earnestly to everybody to assist in maintaining a state of orderliness and to refrain from action of any kind, likely to lead to incidents.

No official information is available as to the result of the Godsberg talks yesterday but newspapers emphasise that there are no certain matters which lie outside their immediate range. One of these, it is pointed out, concerns the claims of the Polish and Hungarian Governments, in regard to their minorities of which a Note has been received by the British Government.

While discussion of these claims is not ruled out, it is made clear that the present negotiations concern only the German population in Czechoslovakia. Arrangements for a reasonable time limit for transference of the population and territory and for settlement of the new boundary is believed by the press to be another question on which differences of view may have been expressed.—British Wireless.

HITLER'S REPLY

Godsberg, Sept. 23. It is officially announced that Mr. Chamberlain received Herr Hitler's reply at 3.35 p.m.

According to German circles the conference is expected to last until to-morrow evening.—Reuter.

OPTIMISM WAVING

London, Sept. 23. Whereas the British press this morning was apt to view the events optimistically in view of the fact that the conference between Herr Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain was to be resumed, the diplomatic correspondent of the "Times" is more pessimistic.

The Anglo-French plan, the correspondent says, comprises three points, which might not be accepted by Germany. Should this be the case, then in the opinion of the correspondent, Mr. Chamberlain might just as well come home, if even only one point is not accepted.

The first point concerns the dropping, for the time being, of the Hungarian and Polish demands;

SUCCESSFUL SURPRISE RAID BY CHINESE

Nanchang, Sept. 23. Another successful raid was staged on the Japanese around Mahweiling on the Nanchang-Kiukiang Railway by Chinese troops yesterday evening.

Closing in on the Japanese troops stationed at Tsaitum, two miles east of Mahweiling, without their notice, the Chinese suddenly attacked them from all sides and put them to rout.

Over 60 Japanese dead and wounded were left behind.—Central News.

CORPS BATTERY DINNER

Need For Recruits Stressed

The annual dinner of Corps 1st Battery, of the Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps, was held at Volunteer Headquarters last night, when Capt. T. Addis Martin, O.C., presided. Among the guests were Lieut. Col. H. B. Rose, M.C., Commandant of the Corps, Brigadier A. Burrows, and Col. N. M. S. Irwin, D.S.O., M.C., G.S.O.(1).

After the Loyol Toast was honoured, Capt. Addis Martin read a telegram from Lieut. Col. H. B. Rose, who was at present in Kobe, wishing the Corps best wishes.

Capt. Addis Martin said:—Colonel Rose, Brigadier Burrows and our Guests.—In the name of all members of Corps 1st Battery, I extend to you all a right hearty welcome to this, our annual dinner.

Colonel Rose, I think it is most fitting that Corps 1st Battery should have the privilege of being the first Unit in the Corps to welcome you as their new Commandant. I can assure you of our loyal co-operation always. We hope, sir, that your time with us will be not only a very successful one but also a very happy one.

Brigadier Burrows, it was with very genuine pleasure, but no surprise, that we learned of your recent promotion so richly deserved. You have been a very good friend to us always, and we are delighted you will be with us next Camp. In thanking you most heartily for all you have done for us I would include your staff, 20th Battery and the Master Gunners at both Belchem and Pak Shu Wan.

One name only I must mention—Bdr. Oliver, on whose broad shoulders so much of the training on the guns has fallen. When he does leave us he will take with him the grateful thanks and best wishes of us all.

BETTING ON CRICKETS

Seven More Men
Convicted

Six fighting cricketers were guests of the Yau-mat Police Station on Thursday, being granted free board and lodging for the night so as to be available as evidence against seven men at the Kowloon Court yesterday morning.

Some 200 fellow gladiators, whose release Mr. Macfadyen ordered on Thursday, were let loose without ceremony on a hillside in Tai-poo Road the same afternoon.

On Wednesday, Det. Sub-Ins. C. Mottram led a raid on the Wo Ping Boarding House in Nathan Road, where cricket fights were in progress, and arrested 92 men on a charge of gambling. Four others were charged with keeping a common gaming house and with cruelty to cricketers. Of these men 89, including two of the keepers, had pleaded guilty and were sentenced on Thursday.

Tsui Nam, 45, and Tsung Sam, 40, were yesterday convicted by Mr. Macfadyen on both charges of "keeping" and "cruelty," and fined $25 and $75 respectively on the first charge or, in default, one month's and two months' hard labour, and $10 and $25 respectively on the second charge or, in default, one month's and one week's hard labour.

Four other defendants, charged with gambling, were fined $3 each. A fifth man was fined two dollars on the same charge.

"AMATEURISH TYPE OF OFFENCE"

"An amateurish type of offence," commented Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Court yesterday, when Leung Tak, 19, and Leung Hung, 31, were charged with impersonating police officers and assaulting two farmers.

Wong Sang and Tseng Kwai, the two farmers, told the Court that they were on Diamond Hill, Kowloon City, on September 12 when they were stopped by the defendants, who proceeded to search them. When they protested the defendants were alleged to have assaulted them.

Reporting the incident to the Kowloon City police station, the farmers asserted that the men claimed to be police officers.

Defendants were fined $25, in default, six months' hard labour.

INDIAN CONSTABLE DISCHARGED

"You are discharged without a stain on your character," Mr. K. M. A. Barnett, Magistrate, informed Dalip Singh, police constable No. B649, at the Kowloon Court yesterday at the conclusion of the case against Singh on a charge of receiving a gratuity of three dollars from Lo Chak-yan, accountant of the Ng Tsau Dairy Company.

After hearing of the witnesses for the prosecution, Mr. Barnett told the Court that the evidence was overwhelmingly in favour of the constable.

NO LICENCE FOR RADIO SET

Sentence of six months' imprisonment, with the alternative of a fine of $100, was imposed on Lee Man-kit, residing at No. 18, Yick Yam Street, third floor, when he appeared before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on a summons for having in his possession a radio receiving set without a licence on September 3.

The radio set was confiscated by order of the Court.

MR. A.H. POTTS AWARDED DAMAGES

Car Collision
Sequel

Mr. Alexander Hutton Potts, well-known local sharebroker, was yesterday awarded $850 damages in an action for $1000 brought by him against Tsang Ping-kwong, owner of a lorry, which was involved in a collision with claimant's car on July 9 in Connaught Road West, when the case was concluded yesterday before Mr. Justice E. H. Williams at the Summary Court.

Mr. D. B. Evans represented the plaintiff while Mr. W. A. Mackinlay was for the defence.

The driver of the lorry in evidence yesterday stated that the switchboard of the lorry was affected by the impact of the accident.

Mr. W. A. Mackinlay submitted that the only evidence that the lorry had no lights at the time of the accident were from the two witnesses, Mr. and Mrs. Potts. In fact it was the impact which caused the lights to go off. He submitted that no one but a madman would travel at that time of the night without lights.

Mr. Evans, in his submission, said that a burden was thrown on the defendant in that he had to show that the impact had caused the lights to fail. Defendant, he said, had put up an explanation that the lights might have failed.

His Lordship said that he was satisfied that the plaintiff had discharged his onus and therefore gave judgment for $850 with costs.

WOMAN FINED FOR BEATING A CHILD

S.C.A. Prosecution
Follows Letter

With one previous conviction against her for assault on a child under the age of 16, Wu Fung, married woman, appeared before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of having beaten a three-year-old girl, Ho Lan, in a manner likely to cause her unnecessary suffering on September 15.

Inspector H. W. Fraser, of the S. C. A., told the Court that he received an anonymous letter, and as a result of the information, Miss P. Harrop, Lady Assistant, visited defendant's house at No. 1, Wing Fung Street, and found the girl to be in a dirty condition. There were bruises on her thighs and arms.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan appeared for the defence and said that the child was entrusted to defendant's care by her sister. Defendant had inflicted slight punishment on Ho Lan because she had repeatedly attempted to climb over the verandah.

Defendant was fined $150 in default, three months' hard labour.

MUITSAI CHARGE

Appearing before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday charged with keeping an unregistered muitsai, Wong Yuk-shing, married woman, was fined $25.

COLONY WATER PROBLEM ACUTE

Numerous Reports
Of Wastage

The water problem in Hong Kong has become so acute that further restrictions are being introduced on Monday, when water will be available for only eight hours a day.

The Water Authorities appeal to the public to economise as much as possible, and, more important still, to remedy any leakage in taps and waste of water.

Mr. A. B. Purves, Executive Engineer of the Water Works, disclosed to a "Daily Press" representative yesterday that numerous reports had been received by him regarding wastage of water, specially in the poorer Chinese quarters and Indian districts.

Asked whether street cleaning could be done with sea water instead of fresh water, Mr. Purves replied that the streets would be slippery when washed with salt water.

ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF REVOLVER

Wong Chuen, who was charged before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday with possession of a .38 Short revolver and five rounds of ammunition, was committed to stand trial at the Criminal Sessions.

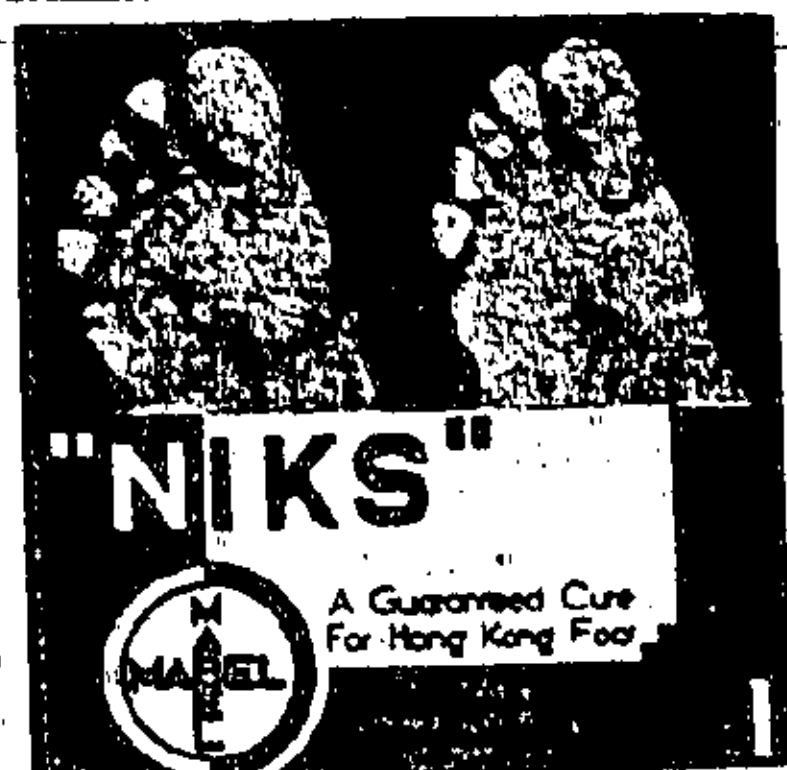

An additional charge of breach of the Deportation Ordinance was also preferred, hearing of the case being adjourned till next Friday.

PUBLIC BARRED FROM MURDER HEARING

Hearing of the case against Li Man, charged with the murder of Pun Shing, has been fixed for October 4.

At the Central Court yesterday, Mr. Edwards announced that the hearing would not be open to the public, but the Press would be permitted.

It will be recalled that Li was originally charged with wounding Pun Shing on August 4 at the Luen Hing Seamen's boarding house. Pun succumbed to stab wounds and the charge was accordingly amended.

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

Patronal Feast Of St. Teresa's Church

The celebration of the patronal feast will take place to-morrow at St. Teresa's Church, Kowloon Tong. The actual date of the feast is October 3 but as the first Sunday of October is the traditional feast of the Holy Rosary, that day is reserved for celebrations at the Rosary Church; therefore St. Teresa's feast is observed on this day.

The saint in question is St. Teresa of the Child Jesus, known to many as "the Little Flower of Jesus," because of a phrase which she used to indicate her idea of personal devotion to Christ. She was a Carmelite Sister at Lisieux, in France, and she died in 1897 at the age of twenty-four. No remarkable event distinguished her life, which was all spent in great simplicity and extraordinary desire to conform herself to the will of God.

Her autobiography, written at the order of her superiors, created what might be called a sensation in the realm of books on spiritual topics, for it became so celebrated that within a few years it was translated into all the chief languages of the world, and it has since been read by millions of persons and has done untold good.

ST. JEROME

The last day of October is the anniversary of the death, and the feast, of one of the most remarkable of the Doctors of the Church—a title given to Saints who were eminent as men of learning—St. Jerome, who was born in the middle of the fourth century. He was born in Dalmatia and became a Christian while a student in Rome. Thenceforward all his life was spent in study of religious matters, chiefly the Scriptures, and he is justly regarded as one of the greatest, if not actually the greatest, of all scriptural scholars. He lived in various places, always leading a most ascetical life, but because of the rigid severity of his character making few friends.

He might be numbered among those great men whom Thackeray called "the lonely ones of the world," for there were few men of his time who shared the wide extent of his learning, and his supreme ability made him impatient of mediocrity. Yet in many of his dealings with those who met him, and in his writings, he showed often great gentleness, and realised with regret the ruggedness of his own character. His chief work was the compilation of the Vulgate edition of the Bible, authorised by the Church.

MASS IN THE COLOSSEUM

The Colosseum, the great half-ruined amphitheatre in Rome, and probably one of the best known buildings in the world, has been more than usually in the news recently. First it was announced that a performance of "Aida," which was to be given there, was cancelled at the request of the Catholic citizens of Rome, who wished the building to be honoured as it always was in the past chiefly as the scene of numberless martyrdoms in the early days of Christianity. The request of the people was acceded to at once, and very shortly after it was announced that, in order to signalise the religious character of this great monument, a section of it on the ground level would be set aside as a chapel where Mass would be celebrated on Sundays and chief festivals—as was always done in the days when the Pope ruled Rome.

It was shortly after the beginning of the Fascist regime that Mussolini ordered to be set up again the Cross which had stood in the centre of the arena for centuries. This cross has been removed temporarily, in order to permit of new excavations which are producing very important results. It will be replaced at the end of the excavations.

ST. STEPHEN'S TOWER

The celebrations in honour of the nine hundredth anniversary of the death of St. Stephen, first King of Hungary, are being carried out with great pomp in Hungary during these months, and the dignitaries of both Church and State have taken part in them side by side. The commemorative stamps are among the most striking of the "special issues" that have appeared in Europe.

A recent event in connection with the jubilee festivities was the inauguration of a great monument, St. Stephen's Tower, on the summit of Somlo Hill in the Trans-Danubian region. This hill was a look-out post for St. Stephen and his armies when the Magyars were trying to defend themselves against pagan enemies in the years following the nation's conversion to Christianity.

In accordance with an ancient custom, a beacon is lit on the top of this hill every year on the eve of St. Stephen's Feast. This is intended to indicate that the spirit of St. Stephen is still watching over the land, and that Hungary remains a faithful stronghold of Christianity.

THE CATACOMBS

The discovery of a new catacomb under the Via Latina outside Rome reduces the number of missing catacombs to three. Constant search is being made for these catacombs to which there are references in early records, for it is always hoped that they will throw new light on early Christian archaeology. By a clause in the Lateran Treaty, the Catacombs, whenever discovered, become the property of the Holy See.

The newly discovered catacomb is not far outside the city boundaries and is near the railway line that runs to Naples. It is definitely proved to have been a hiding place for Christians and not merely a burial place.

The idea of the catacombs was a gradual development. The Jews living in Rome had cut, in the soft rock, tombs in the manner of the rock graves of Palestine. When some of these Jews became Christians they resorted to the tombs as hiding-places when persecution became violent. Later the subterranean galleries were extended and became a living place. There were very many of them but none very extensive, because it was anticipated that some might be discovered, and the Christians did not wish any large hiding-place to be revealed. Practically all are of uniform depth, about forty feet for they were always cut in a certain stratum of tufa which was too soft for building purposes.

THE VAUGHAN LINE

When Major Charles Vaughan was chosen to speak at the English representative at one of the Budapest Eucharistic Congress meetings, and he appeared in the uniform of a Privy Chamberlain of the Sword and Cape to Pope Pius XI, some people began to reckon up the number of his family who had given service to the Church in a clerical or lay capacity. It would be very difficult to make a complete list, for the family is a very old one and has always been prominently Catholic. Three of the Major's uncles held episcopal office as Cardinals, Archbishop and Bishop. Cardinal Vaughan left as his memorial to the See of Westminster the Byzantine cathedral that is a familiar London landmark.

The Vaughan line is, it appears, distinguished in other ways than for its connection with the Church. A newspaper report mentions that at the annual dinner of the Royal Monmouthshire Royal Engineers, Major Vaughan and his son who attended were the fourth and fifth generations to have served with the regiment. The Major was a staff officer in the Great War and has the D.S.O. and other decorations. He was Gold Staff officer at the last two coronations.

CANADIAN CONSERVATIVE LEADER

The choice of a Catholic, Dr. Manion, as leader of the Conservative Party in Canada is a proof of broadmindedness in a group that has not always got credit for it, and sometimes perhaps did not give much occasion for such credit. Some complaint on the religious score was made when the election was over, and it came in for more prominence than usual because the Liberal Party leader is also a Catholic.

Criticism however is silenced by the personal popularity of Dr. Manion, an Irish Canadian of very attractive personality. He practised as a doctor until the war, when he served with the French Army and later with the Canadian A.M.C. He wrote an entertaining book about his experiences, "A Surgeon in Arms." He had Cabinet rank on two occasions, but at present he is not a member of Parliament. He is expected to be nominated to a vacancy in the near future. He won a very good reputation as an administrator, while as a speaker he is an effective debater, and is a slashing critic when occasion demands it.

THE MASS OF THE NORMANS

The church which was built for the World Exhibition in Paris last year still stands, and it was recently the scene of a simple ceremony recalling England's conquest by William the Conqueror of Normandy. So it was called the "Mass of the Normans." The British and French flags were both hung in the church during the Mass, and among the items of decoration there also appeared the Norman leopards which are incorporated in the British Coat of Arms. An attaché from the British Embassy was present. He was Captain Crawshaw, who is the son-in-law of a former ambassador, Lord Tyrrell, also a Catholic. Lord Tyrrell is now Chairman of the Board of Film Censors. His two sons were both killed in action during the war.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE LESSON SERMON

SUBJECT: REALITY

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches to-morrow, September 25 will be "Reality."

The Golden Text will be "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy Kingdom is a right sceptre." (Ps. 45:6).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible, "I am the Lord and there is none else, there is no God beside me. I girded thee though thou hast not known me: that they may know from the rising of the sun and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord and there is none else. Drop down, ye heavens, from above and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together. I, the Lord have created it." (Isa. 45:5,6,8,9).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "God fashions all things after his own likeness. Life is reflected in existence. Truth in truthfulness. God in goodness, which impart their own peace and permanence Love, redolent with unselfishness bathes all in beauty and light. The grass beneath our feet silently exclaims, 'The meek shall inherit the earth.' The modest arbutus sends her sweet breath to heaven. The great rock gives shadow and shelter. The sunlight glints from the church dome, glances into the prison-cell, glides into the sick chamber, beautifies the landscape, blesses the earth." (P. 518: 9-19).

BIG BEN IS 84 YEARS' OLD

Now Speaks To The World By Radio

At intervals every day a voice rings out from London to the world, speaking a language that men of all nations can understand, telling the passing of the hours—the voice of Big Ben, the great bell that hangs in the clock tower of the Houses of Parliament, at Westminster.

The bell that was to sound the hour from the then newly-built tower—originally cast in 1586. It stood eight feet high, was nine and a half feet in diameter at the mouth, and weighed 15 tons. After being transported to Westminster it stood for some months at the foot of the tower, the marvel of all beholders. The bell was struck at intervals to test its soundness, but one day was found to contain a flaw, owing to which it was scrapped, and a second bell, the present one, was cast at a London bell foundry.

Big Ben the Second, which weighs thirteen and a half tons, was hoisted to its eyrie, some 200 feet above the ground, in October, 1858. Officially named "St. Stephen," it was soon given by the public the nickname of "Big Ben" after Sir Benjamin Hall, then First Commissioner of Works, the official responsible for the care of Government buildings.

After a time this bell, too, developed a slight flaw, owing to the clapper's being too heavy, but the makers were able to mend it, and Big Ben has given no trouble since.

One cold, wintry day in 1923, a small group of BBC engineers climbed to the roof of a nearby building and picked up the bell's voice with a microphone for the first time; a new era in Big Ben's life had begun. Later a microphone (protected against weather and interference by pigeons) was installed in the clock tower itself, and Big Ben became a regular broadcaster to listeners at home.

On November 11, 1927, the bell was first heard by overseas listeners through the medium of GSW, the original short-wave transmitter of the BBC. It would be interesting to know its original founders would have taken the news that one day their bell would be heard in every part of the civilised world.

It is a common error to apply the bell's name to its parent clock, the most accurate as well as the largest and most powerful striking clock in the world—it keeps time so perfectly that some listeners believe it to be automatically controlled from Greenwich Observatory. Actually, the clock is not controlled or synchronised in any way, yet official records prove that it varies hardly more than a second either way throughout the year.

Although it is 15 feet long and weighs five tons, so perfect is the adjustment that if a penny is placed on the two-hundredweight

What The Stars Are Doing

Dorothy Lamour is to be starred by Paramount in a re-make of Mantrap, one of Clara Bow's biggest successes in 1928. Fred MacMurray will co-star.

Hollywood is talking about a romance between Janet Gaynor and Adrian, M-G-M's dress designer.

Lew Landers, director of many Radio "B" pictures is being promoted to "A's." His first will be "Pacific Liner" starring Victor McLaglen as a chief engineer, a similar character to the one he played in "The Informer."

The Kay Francis flying film has been re-named Dublin by Mistake. But it will be Kay who does the Corrigan stunt.

M-G-M are adding a lion to the animals in "The Wizard of Oz." Bert Lahr will play the part.

Walter Wanger has been given one and a half million dollars' extra finance by United Artists on the strength of his success with "Algiers."

Billy Gilbert, famous for playing fat comic Greeks, asked for a release from his Radio contract to return to the stage. He goes to Broadway to play in Greek to You.

Anthony Rivers, a New York actor who played Valentino's brother in Blood and Sand, is down to star in the screen biography of Valentino which Edward Small was planning for Jack Dunn.

Universal are planning a story called Newsboys' Home for as many of the Dead End Kids as they can get. It deals with a famous memorial home in New York where newsboys are boarded for a minimum price.

The next Thin Man picture is to be called "Another Thin Man." The baby William Powell and Myrna Loy were preparing for in "After the Thin Man" will be present.

Josef von Sternberg has signed a contract to direct for M-G-M. This cancels the plan for him to direct Danielle Darrieux in Rio.

Universal tried to buy Ann Sheridan's contract from Warners after her work in a supporting part in "Letter of Introduction." But Warners are to star her in "Students Nurse."

Jackie Cooper may come to England. Monogram, for whom he works, are considering making four pictures with him over here next year.

In the next Hardy family adventures, "The Hardys Out West," Virginia Welder will join the company instead of Judy Garland. Mickey Rooney stars.

Joy Hodges, the singer in Merry-Go-Round of 1938, will play a straight dramatic part in her next film, "The Comet."

Dennis O'Keefe takes over a leading part from Robert Montgomery in "Vacation from Love" with Florence Rice.

GOLD DIGGERS IN PARIS

"Gold Diggers in Paris" which opens at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatre to-day, is a hilarious story of the comical error perpetrated by Hugh Herbert in signing up a troupe of dancers from a New York night club to represent America in an international ballet contest in Paris.

After numerous complications, sometimes exciting and always funny, the American chorus girls actually make the judges forget all about ballet when they perform their routines at the contest.

The picture stars Rudy Vallee and Rosemary Lane, while the supporting cast includes Hugh Herbert, Allen Jenkins, Edward Brophy, Mabel, Todd, Melville Cooper and Fritz Feld.

bob of the pendulum, the clock will gain four-tenths of a second in 24 hours.

The materials used in the clock's construction were of such excellence that, when the mechanism was overhauled about four years ago, no replacements were needed. Every part is original, just as it was made over 84 years ago.

INDIAN DENIES CHEATING

More than £50,000, said counsel at Bow-street recently, was said to be involved in a charge of cheating in India against Changaramkumarath Unnithiri, 37, a cashier in the employ of the P. and O. Banking Corporation, at Calcutta, Madras.

He appeared on remand under the Fugitive Offenders' Act and was remanded in custody. A provisional extradition warrant had been issued by the Madras Government.

Mr. Du Cann, prosecuting, said that the depositions were expected to arrive from India shortly.

Mr. Derek Curtis Bennett, defending, renewed an application for bail. He said it was strongly contested that any crime had been committed, and Unnithiri's parents had lodged with the bank in India securities to cover any possible shortage there might be.

His brother, a law student in England and another person were willing to stand surety. Unnithiri was anxious to return to meet any allegation, and was prepared to fly back to India.

The magistrate, Sir Rolfe Graham-Campbell, refused to allow bail.

NEW CZECH CABINET FORMED

GENERAL SIROVY REPLACES HODZA

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO NATION ON POLICY

PRAGUE, September 23. GENERAL JAN SIROVY, THE "STRONG MAN" OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA, HAS FORMED A NEW CABINET AND PLACED HIMSELF AT ITS HEAD AS PRIME MINISTER AND MINISTER OF WAR.

Dr. Kamil Krofta retains his position as Foreign Minister, and Dr. J. Kalous is again Finance Minister. As their colleagues these men have M. Ozenkl, Lord Mayor of Prague, M. Bukovsky, Chief of the Sokol Organisation, and M. Vavrecka, who was recently appointed Minister of Propaganda. These three Ministers will be without portfolio, while Dr. Joseph Cerny, Governor of Moravia, probably will be Minister of the Interior.

Political affairs will be concentrated in the hands of a committee composed of the former Premier, Dr. Milan Hodza, Dr. Joseph Cerny, M. Bechyne, Dr. J. Sramek, and Dr. E. Franke, who formed the Inner Political Cabinet in the late Government.

The new Council represents a government with a wide national basis to enable the President to carry on with the complete backing of the nation.

Dr. Eduard Benes, the President, addressed the nation by radio last night on the government changes. He exhorted the people to have no fear for the future of the country and mentioned that Czechoslovakia should be and was ready for any understanding favourable to the country, to the pacification of Europe, or to a close collaboration with Germany, France and Britain.

"We are prepared, if necessary, to fight to the last man for our rights, just as we were prepared to negotiate. I see things clearly and I have my plans for our line of policy formed," declared the President.

Prague is now quiet except for increasing evidence of military activity.—Reuter.

TOWNS REOCCUPIED

Berlin, Sept. 23. Czechoslovakian troops are re-occupying the towns along the border in the Sudeten areas which the Sudeten Germans had taken over, according to reports reaching here from the German News Agency's correspondent at Eger.

The report alleges that the Czech troops have received orders to return to every district they had previously evacuated.—Reuter.

BORDER CLASH

Vienna, Sept. 23. According to reports circulating here, Sudeten legionnaires attempted to cross the Austro-Czech border from lower Austria yesterday but were prevented by Czech troops, who fired on them.—Reuter.

BRITISH WOMEN TO LEAVE

London, Sept. 23. A plane has been sent from England to Prague to pick up the wives of the British Legation staff and bring them back to London.

The British Government has issued instructions for all women attached to the Legation to leave Prague immediately.—Reuter.

NEWS DENIED

Prague, Sept. 23. The German News Agency report that Czech troops had entered Sudeten towns and fired on the inhabitants is denied in an official communiqué.

The communiqué adds: "Arms will only be used to establish order where rebels make armed attacks on state buildings."—Reuter.

FOUND IN HOTEL ROOM

Sentences totalling one year's imprisonment were imposed on Yu Hui-hun, unemployed, when he appeared before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on charges of being found in a dwelling house with intent to commit a felony and with a breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

Detective-Sergeant J. Allen said that defendant was found in a room at the Tung Shan Hotel, occupied by a Mr. Bocker. Defendant had entered by climbing through an open fan-light, but was caught while attempting to escape by way of the verandah. Yu had a previous conviction for a similar offence.

"CHAMBERLAIN MUST GO!"

London, Sept. 23. "Stand by the Czechs! Chamberlain must go!" chanted a crowd of 10,000 people which gathered outside Whitehall last night in one of the most remarkable demonstrations since the beginning of the crisis.

Additional police were drafted to the district to handle the crowd, and with tactful handling the din gradually subsided and the mob dispersed.—Reuter.

Canton Warned Of Bogus Notes

Canton, Sept. 23. Bankers and shop-keepers here have been advised, in a press statement by the Commissioner of Finance, to keep a sharp look-out for counterfeit notes of the Central Bank, Bank of China, Farmers' Bank and others, which it is feared may shortly be brought into Canton by Japanese agents.

The Japanese are said to have recently printed a considerable quantity of such notes at Amoy, and have been waiting for a suitable opportunity to smuggle them into Kwantung.

The counterfeits are excellent imitations of the genuine notes, it is reported, so that extra precautions are necessary.—Our Own Correspondent.

BOMBINGS TEND TO ISOLATE KWANGSI

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, Sept. 23. It is difficult to get news quickly from Kwangsi, as in last week's bombings the long-distance telephone wires were severed and the telegraph and radio stations at Wuchow suffered damage.

The raiders again flew to Wuchow on Monday, and again it was the Kwangsi University and the manufacturing area of the city that were bombed. The social hall and the law building were badly damaged and the sulphuric acid plant and a textile factory, both Government plants, wrecked.

At a very early hour, 21 Japanese planes took off for Nanning, formerly the capital of Kwangsi Province. Little news is available regarding the fate of the city but it is believed that it must have suffered severe damage.

BRIDGE STRUCK

A cement bridge on the main road from Nanning to the sea by way of Kwangtung was demolished by two direct hits.

Nganchanggan has been more often bombed than any point along the Canton-Bankow Railway, and on Monday it underwent its worst experience. As one raiding squadron departed another came, exactly 50 bombs bursting within a very limited area. It may take several days to repair the damage done so that trains can run again.

TAMMANY HEAD TO FACE NEW TRIAL

New York, Sept. 23. James J. Hines, former Tammany Hall leader, whose recent trial in connection with the cause of a technical error, will face a new trial on November 14 on charges of illegal gambling and bribery.—Reuter.

N.Y. HURRICANE DEATH ROLL MOUNTS

High Velocity Wind Rocks Empire State Building

Boston, Sept. 23. The death roll resulting from the devastating hurricane which swept over the New England states yesterday is steadily mounting and is now estimated at 250 persons.

Floods resulting from the torrential rain threaten new tragedies. Over 150 are known to be dead in Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire and Rhode Island alone.

Hundreds are also missing and thousands are homeless while the damage already runs into millions of dollars.

President Roosevelt has ordered all government agencies to give every assistance to the stricken areas.

Police, Scouts, members of the Red Cross and National Guardsmen are engaged in clearing up after the devastation. The weather is now clear and bright.

The entire city is discussing the wind, computed to have blown at between 110 and 120 miles per hour, the highest velocity recorded in New York.

It is reported to have caused the top of the Empire State Building to sway more than four inches.—Reuter.

MORE PERISH

New York, Sept. 23. The known death roll is now 441.—Reuter.

Forthcoming Charity Ball

RELIEF ASSOCIATION FUNCTION

Mrs. Rose Tsang, active member of the Hongkong Women's National Relief Association, was hostess at a quiet tea party yesterday afternoon at her residence in Taihang Road to the members of the young set, to enlist their strong support for the coming Charity Ball to be held at the Hongkong Hotel on October 7.

This Ball is expected to be one of the most brilliant and successful events that have ever been staged in the Colony. Main feature of the many items on the programme will be a mannequin parade in which most of the socialite beauties of Hongkong will figure.

Its main purpose being to demonstrate the gradual changes of the Chinese National costume, this parade promises to be the most ambitious sartorial display of its kind ever attempted.

Under the expert guidance of Madame T. V. Soong, our local ladies have, for the past many weeks, been rehearsing most strenuously, in their endeavour to make certain that this parade will contribute its quota to the good cause in which it is held.

Funds raised will, of course, go to War relief, and, for so worthy a charity, the public should not hesitate to do their utmost to guarantee the eventual success of the Ball.

Tickets are obtainable at the Hongkong Women's National Relief Association at $10 each.

SUCCESSFUL UNIVERSITY TEA PARTY

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED TO LADIES CLUB

OFFICERS ELECTED

A highly successful tea party was given by the members of the Ladies' Club of the University of Hongkong yesterday, with the twofold purpose of welcoming its new members and of electing officials of the Club for the current year.

The party was attended by nearly all the lady undergraduates of the University.

That the feeling of patriotism which is uppermost in the minds of all Chinese to-day is not lacking amongst the undergraduates of the University was evidenced by the decision to do away with the return party usually given by the new members, and, instead, each new member was asked to contribute $10 to the Medical Relief Fund.

The most outstanding item of the day was the general ragging of the "greenhorns" in which everybody joined in the fun with the right kind of spirit, and the party, which commenced at 5 p.m., continued till 8 o'clock.

The officials elected for the current year were:

Chairman: Miss Joyce Anderson; Hon. Secretary: Miss Rose Pau; Asst. Hon. Secretary: Miss Josephine Chao; Sports Captain: Miss Lai Chung-yue.

St. John's Cathedral Fun Fair

The St. John's Cathedral Fair will be held on the Volunteer Parade Ground on Saturday, October 15. It will be opened by Lady Northcote at 3.15 p.m. and will continue until dusk, and promises to be a most enjoyable affair.

The Women's Fellowship are in charge of the Stalls, and preparations are well advanced for an imposing array of most useful and inviting articles to be offered for sale, such as fancy and knitted articles, home-made provisions and sweets, toys and dolls, baskets, plants, chocolates, cigarettes and other things.

An unusual feature will be the Men's Stall—run by men for men—where the mere male can, if he

BALANCED DIET FOR CHILDREN

ADVOCATED IN HEALTH WEEK LECTURE

Stressing the need for nourishing food for children at every meal, Miss E. Thompson, at a lecture and demonstration on meals at home and abroad in winter months for children of school age at the Emily McPherson College of Domestic Economy, said that food must provide not only for the daily upkeep of the body, but more particularly for the demands of growth and ceaseless activity.

An important rule for children was to begin the day with a good breakfast, Miss Thompson said. To provide a hot, nourishing midday meal was just as important. Children who seemed tired and listless had been found to need nourishment quite as much as rest. Sleep, fresh air and exercise were also absolutely essential to health, but were not capable of outweighing for any length of time the ill-effects of a badly balanced diet.

THE BODY A WORKING MACHINE

In considering the part which food played in human life, we may look upon the body as a working machine which must be supplied with energy to carry out its functions.

The fuel to supply this energy was contained in proteins, fats and carbohydrates.

In addition to these three important classes of energy, it was necessary for correct functioning of the body to include in its food mineral salts, vitamins, roughage, water.

The following list of the sources of these food substances was given by Miss Thompson.

Protein foods contain nitrogen, carbon, hydrogen, and oxygen and help to build body tissue as well as to supply energy. Foods rich in protein are:—Milk, fish, oatmeal, meat, cheese, wheat products, eggs, nuts, legumes (peas, beans, lentils).

Carbohydrates are compounds of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. They are the main source of heat and energy and are usually the cheapest part of the diet. The chief sources of carbohydrates are:—

Grains and grain products, including bread and cakes; sweet foods such as sugar, honey, fruits, jams, jellies; sweet and starchy vegetables such as carrots, peas, potatoes, parsnips.

FOOD VALUES IMPORTANT

Fats are compounds of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen. They are sources of heat and energy and are found in:

(a) Animal fats, milk, butter, meat, fats, cream, cheese, (b) Vegetable fats, nuts, oils (from maize or nuts).

Mineral salts are the compounds of a number of mineral elements and in small quantities are absolutely essential to the structure of the body and the maintenance of health. Phosphorus, calcium and iron are three of the most important, and these should always be specially considered in planning meals.

Iron helps to make good, red blood. Calcium and phosphorus make up the bulk of the bones and the teeth.

Mineral salts are found in vegetables, milk, fruit, yolk of eggs, lean meat, cereals, fish.

Iron chiefly found in eggs, lean meat, dried fruits and vegetables—chiefly the green and leafy vegetables.

Calcium chiefly found in cheese, milk, eggs, green and leafy vegetables, butter and nuts.

Phosphorus chiefly found in yolk of egg, fish, rice, calves' brains and germ of wheat.

"DEFICIENCY DISEASES"

Vitamins are "protective" foods and lack of them results in "deficiency diseases," such as scurvy, diseased eyes, rickets, some nervous diseases, as well as in many cases a low physical condition.

They are found in milk, butter, cream, cheese, egg yolk, liver, cod liver oil, "germ" of grains, leafy vegetables (especially spinach, cabbage, lettuce), tomatoes, carrots, wishes, take refuge and purchase his own requirements.

Gaiety and all the fun of the fair will be provided by a number of side-shows, comprising Clothes Line, Coconut Shies, Skittles, Clock Golf, Darts, "Try Your Strength," Captive Football and Aunts Bally.

Children are being particularly catered for with Bran Tubs, Pick my Pockets and a free for all Sliding Chute.

Teas, ice creams and other refreshments will be on sale, and a military band will be in attendance.

sweet potatoes, green peas, fruits (especially oranges, limes, pineapples).

Roughage is the insoluble and indigestible part of certain foods, particularly vegetables. It stimulates the movements of the digestive tract and helps to keep it in a healthy condition.

The chief sources of roughage are:

Vegetable foods: Leaf and stalk vegetables, root vegetables—fibrous framework, cereals—bran covering, fruits—fibrous framework and skin.

Plenty of water in the diet keeps the tissues in a moist condition, stimulates the flow of digestive juices, aids in digestion, absorption and excretion and promotes circulation.

Milk occupies an almost unique position among animal foods, for it contains in itself representatives of all three nutritive constituents—proteins, carbohydrates and fat. It also contains calcium necessary for growth of bones and teeth, phosphorus for muscle development and vitamins which are essential to healthy growth. Children should have at least one pint a day.

VARIETY NEEDED

Children need the same variety of foods as their elders need and all food should be served as simply as possible.

A balanced diet for children includes (1), milk; (2), vegetables and fruits; (3), eggs, meat, poultry or fish; (4), bread and cereals; (5), fats and sugars. Each of these classes of foods should be represented daily, some of them at every meal if possible. A good daily schedule for children calls for:

Milk: At least a pint, preferably a quart, each day.

Butter: At every meal.

Cereal or bread or potatoes: at every meal.

Vegetables in addition to potatoes: At least two daily, one raw or quickly cooked; leafy kinds often.

Fruit: Once or twice a day; citrus fruits or tomatoes daily.

Egg or meat: The older child may have both.

Sweets: In small amounts at the end of the meal.

WOMEN'S SOLDIERS RELIEF ASSN.

Members Of Committee Resign

The Annual general meeting of the Hongkong Chinese Women's Soldiers Relief Association was held on September 17 at the Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

Proposals were put forward by certain new members which involved the amendment of the constitution of the association, and the complete reorganization of the association.

The chairman drew attention to the fact that no previous notice of such proposals were given, and that the power to amend the constitution was vested in the executive committee. Nevertheless, the proposals were carried and, as a result, a number of members of the various committees resigned in protest. It is understood that some of the administrative advisers have also resigned.

CABINET CRISIS

IN YESTERDAY'S BRITISH OFFICIAL WIRELESS, Lord Halifax, the Foreign Secretary, appealed to the public to suspend judgment on recent events until the real facts are known. Appeals of this nature are all very well but the British people have every right to be informed, especially at a critical juncture like the present, what the facts are; they do not want to be kept in the dark indefinitely.

Reports from London indicate that, after the rejection of Herr Benjin's ultimatum by the Czech Government, British policy followed a two-fold trend:—

1. A very definite strengthening of the Anglo-French entente, and of the corresponding defensive military precautions; but
2. A sinister refusal to abandon the policy of pressing Prague to make further "concessions."

The impression was that, prior to Herr Hitler's final Nuremberg speech, a temporary agreement on a line to be pursued in Prague was reached between the Germans and a section of the British Cabinet and it appears that, when Sir Neville Henderson, British Ambassador to Berlin, returned to his post before the Fuehrer's speech, he was convinced of Nazi agreement to the line of action proposed by London for the next phase.

When the British Government first faced the possibility of being involved in war, its first act was to bring pressure upon Prague to yield and later, at further and still stronger wave of British pressure was brought to bear on President Benes and his Cabinet.

In other words, the intensification of the Nazi threats at Nuremberg were employed and were intended to be understood as the clever accompaniment of a new British attack behind the scenes in Prague.

Then came a surprising leading article in "The Times" demanding the secession of Sudetenland to Germany, a leading article which was submitted before publication to the German Embassy in London, and which immediately led to an uproar.

ENCOURAGED BY THIS, Herr Hitler was led to under-estimate the strength of British public opinion but this fault was none of his own—it was due to the mistaken and unsuccessful attempt of the Chamberlain Government to muffle all views other than its own.

The Cabinet in the meantime continued its negotiations with Germany for the slicing of Czechoslovakia and, at the same time, conversations with the French Prime Minister, M. Daladier, were kept up, apparently concerning the Anglo-French entente and the corresponding defensive military precautions.

To the astonishment of M. Daladier, Mr. Chamberlain, with the crisis already visible, entered into a long homily on the "undesirability" of anything to hasten co-operation with Soviet Russia. The French Prime Minister was left with the startling impression that the "social" hostility of the British Prime Minister and his advisers to the Soviet system was actually overriding in their minds the military demands of their country's defence.

Again, on the occasion of the Royal Visit to France this summer, Lord Halifax solemnly delivered M. Blum with a lecture on the social undesirability of Bolshevism, as though the British Government were in a position to select who should be France's potential allies and who should not.

THE EXISTENCE OF THIS ATTITUDE—and the knowledge in Berlin that it does exist—is prob-

CORRESPONDENCE

A.R.P. Examinations

(The Editor, Hongkong Daily Press)

Dear Sir.—I shall be very grateful if you will allow me through the medium of your paper to explain the following regulations regarding Air Raid Precautions Examinations as prescribed by the Home Office and conducted by the St. John Ambulance Brigade, as I have received many enquiries regarding these examinations.

Grade I Instructors Examination
This is for the certificate as prescribed by the Home Office for granting to officially recognised instructors for lecturing to the Brigade and General Public. (These certificates are interchangeable between the St. John Ambulance Organisation and the British Red Cross Society).

The examination consists of three parts, oral, the delivery of a lecture—the marking being chiefly for notes made, style of delivery, power to impart knowledge, and interest the audience etc., and a written examination. In all three examinations 75 per cent is the minimum for a pass.

This certificate is officially recognised for instruction—in all A.R.P. first aid work, and only differs from the C.A.G.S. (Civilian Anti Gas Schools) inasmuch as it does not qualify for instruction in subjects outside first aid work, e.g. road decontamination, and repair, demolition of buildings, fire brigade, special duties, wardens, official training, or the essential services referring to water, light and food supplies.

Grade II Instructors Examination
This certificate does not qualify for instruction, but for assistance to Grade I Instructors, or the conduct of tutorials, practical work etc. provided that a Grade I Instructor is responsible for the class.

Ordinary A.R.P. Certificate. For all Brigade members and are recognised by the Home Office via (I) Trained and (II) Untrained. The trained hold two certificates, a first aid one and an A.R.P. the untrained—auxiliary, one or the other. All Brigade members should hold both.

General Public Examination for Ordinary Certificate.

A very important part of the Government scheme is the education of the general public in A.R.P. Firstly—because such education when thoroughly done in a course of eight lectures, is the greatest prevention of panic. Secondly—because a large number of helpers are needed to staff first aid posts and to form casualty clearing parties. Many of the Brigade would be called to the colours, therefore we must have a large auxiliary reserve to meet this need of all ages and physical grades.

Thirdly—because a nation well educated in A.R.P. is less likely to be attacked by gas, as panic or permanent injury is not likely to result if known preventive measures are properly understood and practised.

The above are the official examinations as prescribed by the Home Office in conjunction with the recognised Red Cross Societies. Full Course is for Fire Brigade, Police, Air Raid Wardens etc.

Short Course of five lectures for indoor workers.

The local body is in urgent need of Transport workers and more Auxiliary—A.R.P. Courses for the latter are regularly held at Brigade Headquarters. All Old Members are required to enlist in the Reserve Section, so that their services may be utilised if necessary.

Please apply to the undersigned for any further information.

COMMITTAL CASE
HEARING FIXED

Hearing of committal proceedings against Ho Tai-po and Shek Wai-kwan, charged with "counselling, procuring, or commanding Li Lam to cast or throw a corrosive fluid on Yu Tak-chen with intent to burn, maim, or disfigure her," and against Li Lam, charged with throwing the corrosive fluid, provisionally fixed by Mr. Q. A. A. Macdaryen at the Kowloon Court yesterday for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, October 3, 4, and 5.

Probably the biggest single long-term factor in the apparently perilous series of hesitations, shufflings and betrayals of the past three weeks.

Meanwhile, gunfire has already started in Czechoslovakia and for this a great deal of the responsibility must fall on the shoulders of Mr. Chamberlain and his associates.

CHINESE PRESS
COMMENTCzechoslovakia And
Mr. Chamberlain

Commenting on the European situation after the capitulation of Czechoslovakia, the Takungpao in an editorial deplors the isolated condition of the country.

Due to the heterogeneity of her ethnic elements, and to the fact that she being a country recently created through the efforts of Britain and France, is still subject to depending on their support, the editorial admits of the country's natural weak points.

The demands for the right of self-determination by the other Hungarians, Polish and even Slav minorities, it is feared, will follow. Although realising the difficult position of Mr. Chamberlain, it is greatly doubted if the step he has taken cannot, but result in bringing about the opposite end. As Mr. Anthony Eden, in his speech precisely declared, "with the present danger removed, others will crop up as a result of an appetite whetted by the triumph of might over right."

A general war, instead of thus being averted, is, on the contrary, encouraged to break out sooner or later.

Only much more emboldened, unfortunately, can be expected of the present joint manipulations of Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler.

CHINA TO-DAY SERIES—VI

THE GENTLE ARTS OF SELF-DEFENCE

BY JACK CHEN

There are more people singing songs about liberty, equality and fraternity in China to-day than in any other country. There are more plays in China than anywhere else in which Hitler, Mussolini and Japanese militarist are the actors. There are more artists here drawing the horrors of war, the virtues of peace and the heroism of the common man than ever before.

For the time being, birds, bamboos, nudes and half-slices of water-melon have taken a back seat. Waterfalls and "peonies at noon" are at a discount. These are still admired, but the crowd passes on quickly. The demand is for posters, woodcuts, cartoons and art that throbs with the struggle for freedom.

More than ever, art has spread down to the millions, press art, wall newspapers, posters, exhibitions by artists of the struggle at the front and the rear are seen in popular form in Canton, Hankow, Kunning, and Yenan. The new songs are heard from end to end of the country. Travelling from Canton to the Northwest, I heard the "March of the Volunteers" at least once every day, and in a dozen dialects. New popular slogans set to music. Sometimes old folk melodies would be used, or new western style music. A two-day stop in a town was time enough for a full dress performance.

Nearly every town in China has its theatre. Concert acts, clowns, choruses, simple anti-Japanese plays would be given and invariably Hitler and Mussolini would be there. Skillfully old folk art forms would be used to give modern meanings. In the bigger towns and cities more sophisticated performances took place, three act plays with realistic stage settings, lighting effects. I saw performances by two other large groups, organised by the Boy Scouts of Shanghai that had day, and in a dozen dialects. New toured hundreds of cities and songs are appearing constantly. There seems to be little diminution in the stream of books and magazines coming from the presses, but there is a marked increase in the mass distribution type of literature.

While the war has put a virtual stop to advanced research due to the destruction of the universities, it has quickened activity in mass education, in the spread of literacy.

And this work is being increasingly organised. Canton has its Mass Education Institute, that not only runs schools and propaganda corps but has done excellent work in putting up vital information and statistics in easily understood graphic form, in preparing thousands of posters showing the progress of the war and what factors are involved. The North West Special Region directs this mass education as part of the functions of the Education Department on a par with schools. In the best armies, every army camp is a mass school where the fundamentals of citizenship are taught.

SPECTACULAR EXPLOITS
More spectacular are the exploits of the artists and theatre-people. From centres like Wuhan, Kwellin and Canton, the artists are putting out printed posters in editions of tens of thousands that are sent all over the country by the Political Bureau, but the artists are found also at the very fronts brushing out posters by the hundred on paper and on walls. Together with theatrical groups they are found far behind the Japanese outpost cities.

The theatrical and art group of the Central Publicity Board of Hankow, was for instance, trapped in Hanchow, broke through the Japanese lines (two of the members were killed), and found themselves once again in Chinese territory. They rejoined their units after a month's walking from Hanchow to Shanghai, acting all the way. Sections of the famous woman novelist Ting Ling's Front Service Corps are active in the North East Shansi-Hopeh-Changai territories that stretch under Chinese jurisdiction up to the gates of Peiping.

I travelled with Ting Ling's main group on the last stage of a year's tour through Shensi and Shensi. It had some fifty members—actors, poets, playwrights, singers, musicians, dancers. At every resting place, the sound of fiddle or drum would quickly collect a crowd to learn new songs—many of them villages. For the first time in China, juvenile art is being taken really seriously. Performances by the Wandering Children's Dramatic Troupe are unforgettable. They transport you to that wonderland where play is life and life is play.

And the Chinese always win, the trait

CANTON CHOLERA DANGER LESS SERIOUS

Canton, Sept. 23. With the coming of cooler weather, the cholera epidemic seems to have run its course in this city. Signs that the authorities consider the danger to be less serious is the recalling of doctors and nurses who have been giving free inoculations in the streets.—Our Own Correspondent.

TALKS POSTPONED

Godesberg, Sept. 23. Lights burned to the early hours in the hotel where Mr. Chamberlain and his suite are staying in Koenigswinter, while Herr Hitler conferred with Herr Himmler, Chief of the Gestapo (Secret Police), and the Foreign Minister, Herr von Ribbentrop.

German circles remain guardedly optimistic, giving assurances that Mr. Chamberlain would find Herr Hitler in a reasonable mood.

British officials were early this morning telephoning London.

The next meeting between Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler will take place at 11 a.m. It is understood that Mr. Chamberlain spent the morning having a long telephone conversation with London.

News of the postponement of the conference caused speculation among waiting journalists who consider that it might indicate an entirely new situation.—Reuter.

DECISION AT ALL COSTS

Godesberg, Sept. 23. An atmosphere of tension prevails here as the crowds lining both banks of the Rhine await the second of the series of conferences between Herr Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain.

Although Mr. Chamberlain had not left his hotel at 10.15 o'clock it is believed the conference will be resumed about 11 o'clock and concluded in the course of the afternoon. The amount of progress thus far achieved is not revealed but a brief communique issued by Mr. Chamberlain's staff last night is interpreted to mean that in view of the prevailing situation Mr. Chamberlain intends to bring about a decision at all costs. It is reported that the lines between this town and London were busy throughout the night as cipher messages were sent back and forth.—Transocean.

FRENCH PESSIMISM

Paris, Sept. 23. News of the postponement of the Godesberg conversations has caused great pessimism in French political circles. Official quarters maintain marked reserve but stress that the plan agreed to in London by the British and French Ministers represents the utmost limit of concessions.

The press continues to reject the Hungarian and Polish demands. M. Daladier and M. Bonnet exposed the Government's policy to a meeting of the Radical Socialist group in the Chamber this morning. The group expressed itself strongly in favour of that policy so that a break up of the Popular Front is considered probable at an early date in view of the pronounced hostile attitude of the Socialists and Communists.—Transocean.

BLUE BOOK

Paris, Sept. 23. That a blue book will be issued in connection with the negotiations now in progress between Herr Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain is opined by French diplomatic circles this morning. This document will contain an account of the Berchtesgaden conference and its continuation in Godesberg. It is asserted.—Transocean.

FOREIGN OFFICE MEETING

London, Sept. 23. The British Foreign Minister, Lord Halifax, the Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence, Sir Thomas Inskip, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Simon, the Home Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, the Minister for Colonies, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, and the Permanent Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Sir

Alexander Cadogan, met last night for a conference in the Foreign Office.

Political circles here are of the opinion that the Ministers received and considered the report from the Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, now in Godesberg, but no intimation has been given by the competent quarters regarding the object of the conference.—Transocean.

SIROVY GOVERNMENT SURE OF SUPPORT

Prague, Sept. 23. An official statement issued by the Ceteke says that in well-informed quarters it is emphasised that all parties of the Government bloc, also the political committee of the parliamentary majority bloc, which accepted the Anglo-French proposals will support the new Cabinet.

"The Sirovy Government accepts all the duties and complete responsibility of the Government which resigned. It will carry these proposals into effect and is sure of the support of all parties," the statement concludes.—Reuter.

GERMAN TROOPS NEAR CZECH FRONTIER

Berlin, Sept. 23. German troops are at present several miles from the Czech frontier. It is confidently believed that there is no likelihood of their moving for the time being.—Reuter.

CZECH TROOPS HEAD FOR CARLSBAD

Prague, Sept. 23. One hundred and twenty lorry loads of troops left Prague shortly after 11 o'clock this morning in the direction of Carlsbad. The men were loudly cheered by spectators in the streets and the troops replied with the usual Czech greeting, "Nazdar," meaning good luck.—Reuter.

RETURNING TO NORMAL

Prague, Sept. 23. The city is beginning to return to normal with the people working again this morning.

EVIDENCE OF JAPANESE USE OF POISON GAS

Soldier's Diary Shows Way To Discharge Cylinder

Nanchang, September 23. Further evidence pointing to the Japanese use of poison gas has been gathered by the Chinese at the Singtze front and along the Nanchang-Kinkang Railway.

Near Sikuling, west of Singtze, a Japanese gas cylinder was picked up. A diary seized from Private Kiyotami Yoshida, of the Takamoto unit of the Tsuda Detachment, recorded the correct way to discharge the gas and drew a circle on the diary which coincided with what was found on the cylinder. Yoshida also stated that the gas was a combined solution of asphyxiating, sneezing and tear gases.

Foreign correspondents who watched the battle of Sikuling behind the hill reported that they saw the Japanese planes, thrice drop gas shells on the Chinese positions. They noticed that the detonation of the shells was not as heavy as that of ordinary bombs and that when the gas shells exploded there was no dust.

Furthermore, the foreign pressmen found that the smoke of the exploded gas shells was of a yellowish green colour and that after the smoke ascended about 30 feet it started to descend again.

The Japanese fired over 100 gas shells in rapid succession at No 2512 Highland.

Interviewed by a Central News representative, a Chinese field commander declared that the Chinese have also gathered proof of the Japanese using corrosive gas. He added that the Chinese troops at the front are in urgent need of gas masks, or plain wind glasses and mouth covers.—Central News.

GAS SHELLS FOR SHANSI

Pinglu, Sept. 23. Belated reports from north Shansi state that eight truckloads of gas shells were shipped by the Japanese army from Tatung and Subhsien for points south, forestalling presumably large-scale chemical warfare by the invading forces in their south Shansi operations.—Central News.

CORPS BATTERY DINNER

I wish to say a few things about ourselves. The Battery consists of a Right Section, which is far below strength, and a Left Section, which on paper is up to strength, but I do not think some of you turn up as regularly as you can. We all realise business must come first, but try and keep parade rights free. As regards recruits for the Right Section, which are so urgently required, it is up to each member, especially the younger members, to bring in their friends. Get busy at once—there is no time for delay.

I understand that before long anyone desiring to join the Battery will not be posted till he has been passed out in rifle and squad drill. I can assure H.Q. this will be a most welcome innovation. The recruit will then receive instruction in the gun, gun drill and duties on the gun and dummy leader and then be posted to his gun detachment.

NEW LECTURES

The Major I.G. has most kindly consented to give a series of lectures to a few specially selected members. It is essential that those of you whom I select must attend regularly. I can assure you it will be most interesting. For the remainder, parades will take place at these H.Q. or at Belchers or Pak Shu Wan. Here may I stress the tremendous importance of reading the Orders, as they appear in the Saturday papers, regularly and carefully.

I think, gentlemen, it will be agreed that the work of the Battery is most interesting and varied. If each member would only make himself attend all parades regularly and endeavour to make himself efficient, it would simplify my work as Battery Commander.

I need the co-operation of each member, and I do not always employ it, and I need not stress how important our role in times of trouble is. But we must be 100 per cent. efficient, before that trouble starts. Will you make this resolution now, and I shall do all I can to make this training season far more interesting and more varied than ever before? Will you give me this assurance to-night? Members of the Battery, I ask you to rise and join me in the toast of our Guests.

In reply, Col. Rose thanked Capt. Addis-Martin for the hospitality

PRESS-BUTTON AIR RAID WARNINGS

Unknown to the general public, a scheme has been prepared in Britain for extinguishing street lights and giving warning of air raids by simply pressing a button. It was recently demonstrated at the Convention of the Association of Public Lighting Engineers.

The only other method of turning off all street lights in a locality during an emergency is by cutting off the current at the mains, which would, of course, dislocate the entire supply throughout the district.

Homes, cinemas, hospitals etc. would be plunged into darkness, trams and trolley buses would immediately be brought to a standstill, and radio sets working off the main would be rendered useless. The possibility of panic would be considerable.

The latest scheme, which has been devised by the General Electric Co., Ltd., of England, could be worked from a central point, where, by pressing a "button," a "ripple" would be sent along the current passing through the main cables.

This "ripple" would stop the supply of current to all street lights, served by any one power station, but would not interfere with the rest of the current used for other purposes.

It is claimed that a buzzer could be installed in every building in the district, which would respond to a different "ripple," and by this means air raid warnings could be called to their posts and people warned to "take cover."

If necessary, about half a dozen different "ripples" could be created on this principle, each performing a separate function.

and said that he felt honoured in being present. He stressed the point that the Corps needed more recruits, saying that if each particular member would introduce a recruit much better for the defence of the Colony would be derived.

Brigadier Burrows also spoke after which all present joined in the singing of "Pack up your troubles."

INTERPORT CRICKET

This Captaincy Question

(To the Editor, The Hongkong Daily Press)

Dear Sir—"Not Cricket" certainly talked sense when he suggested Donald Anderson as captain of the cricket team that is due to go to Shanghai.

I quite agree with the Sports Editor that as long as the invitation is extended by the Shanghai Cricket Club to the Hongkong Cricket Club, the latter must have the privilege to select the captain.

In the interest of cricket and in keeping with the highest traditions of the British national game, however, I am sure the H. K. C. C. authorities will not mind if a non-Club member led the team—Yours etc.

Umpire
Hongkong, September 23.

"IT SEEMS SO ABSD"

Dear Sir.—What is all this I hear about the Interport cricket captain having to be a member of the H. K. C. C.?

It seems so absurd and I am sure the H. K. C. C. authorities themselves will agree that there is no hard and fast rule regarding this. Or am I, perhaps, taking too much for granted?—Yours etc.

SPORTS FLASHES

HIS EXCELLENCY the Governor will lead a team against Z.B.W. at lawn bowls at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club on Wednesday, September 28.

IN CONNECTION with the Rifle Shoot to-morrow at the Kowloon City Range, we have been asked to state that the programme will include clay bird shooting.

A. H. MADAR, the I.R.C. cricketer, has only just recovered from a nasty bout of influenza. He is, however, taking part in to-day's cricket trial and it will be interesting to watch how he shapes.

TO-DAY'S CRICKET TRIAL GAME

THE FIRST CRICKET Interport trial match, scheduled to take place at the Indian Recreation Club this afternoon, should be of more than ordinary interest in that there will be only time for one more trial before the team is due to leave for Shanghai.

While the inclusion of such players like H. Owen Hughes and Alec Pearce will no doubt strengthen the teams, I cannot help feeling that it is a pity they are not standing down to give some younger players a chance to prove their mettle since both of them have intimated that they will not be able to make the trip.

It may be that one or both of them are on the Selection Committee, but even so they will not miss anything by merely watching the match and not actually taking part in it.

The teams for to-day are as follow:—

MR. A. C. L. BOWKER'S XI
A. C. L. Bowker, L. D. Kilbee, L. T. Ride, A. C. Beck, E. L. Gosano, P. J. Billimoria, E. Zimmer, A. R. Mithu, K. Nazarin, Capt. Whitmarsh, C. M. M. Man, C. E. Godby.

SHANGHAI MARKET

Trading conditions during the week under review have by no means been easy. Cables conveying news that could be regarded in an optimistic vein being closely followed by others that gave rise to apprehension as to the outcome of the European crisis. Under these circumstances it would have caused little or no surprise had the local market given way. There has been a moderate turnover of business during the week and holders have displayed no signs of being eager sellers. In consequence prices have been well maintained and on balance show scarcely perceptible differences in range over the period. Closing tone quiet.

OBJECTIVE OF JAPANESE BOMBS

Foreign Consulates In Shameen

Shanghai, Sept. 23.

Foreign consulates in Shameen, Canton, will probably be the next objectives of Japanese bombers, as a Tokyo report circulated by a Japanese news agency stated that "anti-aircraft guns are now placed around a certain foreign consulate at Canton."

All consulates are located at the British or French concessions in Shameen, and, if guns are mounted there, the Chinese authorities have nothing to do with them.

The news from Tokyo will serve to excuse possible bombing of foreign concessions in future. A Canton report stated that no anti-aircraft guns are found anywhere in Shameen, and the only high angle machine-guns are mounted aboard foreign gunboats off the concessions.—International.

NEWSPAPERS SOLD TO RAISE FUNDS FOR RELIEF

Chinese refugee relief funds will benefit to the extent of $15,452.51 (National Currency), raised during the two days' sales of vernacular newspapers in Hongkong on September 5 and 6.

The movement, coinciding with other patriotic sales that took place all over the Colony, was organized by the Newspaper Sellers' Refugee Relief Association. The papers sold on the two days were donated by the various publishers.

NATIONAL SALVATION BODY FORMED

The establishment of a Women's National Salvation Association was the result of her recent visit to Canton, Madame Sun Yat-sen told pressmen upon her return here on Thursday, says Central News.

Organised for a centralized control of Kwangtung women's activities during the present resistance, the new association will undertake to form first aid units for practical services at the front, encourage women to "comfort" soldiers, and launch a campaign for the collection of warm garments for the soldiers.

Madame "Chiang Kai-shek, Madame Liao Chung-kai, and herself, Madame Sun said, have been elected honorary chairmen of the association, while Madame Yu Han-mou, Madame Wu Te-chen, Madame Hsiang Han-ping, Madame Tseng Yang-fu and several others serve as executive officers.

While in Canton, Madame Sun visited the refugees and wounded soldiers in camps and hospitals to "comfort" them.

At the opening of the 13th, Jurich was floored. He rested till nine before getting up, but he could not prevent Kane from scoring heavy rights to the body. Jurich was hardly able to land a blow. He was very weary in the 14th, but in the last round he stood up toe to toe to the Englishman and drove him back.—Reuter.

Scores of farmers were killed or wounded and many houses destroyed during the Japanese air raid over Nanning in south Kwangsi yesterday, a check-up reveals. Most of the bombs dropped landed at the southern suburbs of the town.

Wuning was also bombed yesterday. Over 10 civilian casualties were registered, and five houses were destroyed.

KANE DEFEATS JURICH ON POINTS

Flyweight Fight In Liverpool

London, Sept. 23.

Peter Kane, the British boxer, defeated Jackie Jurich of America on points in a 15-round contest in Liverpool last night, thus winning the world's flyweight title recently vacated by Benny Lynch.

An estimated crowd of 40,000 watched the fight.

In the second round, Jurich went down for a count of nine. Kane kept up the attack in the next four rounds, but in the seventh Jurich had Kane to the ropes.

Kane shook the American with a right to the jaw in the eighth round. However, the American fought back gamely.

COUNT OF NINE

Again in the eleventh, Kane scored a knock-down, his opponent being down for a count of nine. The twelfth saw the American being sent to the canvas once more.

At the opening of the 13th, Jurich was floored. He rested till nine before getting up, but he could not prevent Kane from scoring heavy rights to the body.

Jurich was hardly able to land a blow. He was very weary in the 14th, but in the last round he stood up toe to toe to the Englishman and drove him back.—Reuter.

Chungking, Sept. 23.

Between 50,000,000 to 100,000,000 Chinese, distributed in various parts of the country, have suffered loss of homes or livelihood as the result of Japanese aggression, according to the latest government statistics.

Relief measures are being undertaken by the Central Government with the aim of giving not only physical succour to these victims of war but also some form of useful work by which they may benefit themselves as well as the country.

As part of the relief programme large numbers of refugees have been sent to areas in Kwangsi and Kwangsi to undertake reclamation work on waste lands.—Our Own Correspondent.
